Mr. Henry Arthur Jones has been explaining to the play-going world why it was that he did not "take a call" on the first night of "The Rogue's Comedy." It was because he had reason to believe that a few maliciously-disposed persons there, on purpose to hiss him. That was a very good reason for not coming before the american

In Mr. Walkes's recent comedy, "Mary Pennington," the heroine proposes to the hero that, to obviate scandal, they should be married, while at the same time being husband and wife only in name. It is a curious fact that a similar incident occurs in a novel which was issued only a few days after "Mary Pennington" was produced.

The elections for the London vestries are just coming on, and it is time to give a hint to the ratepayers not to be humburged by the non-political dodge. They are being asked to vote for good men without regard to their politics, but it is to be noted that the good men —quite by accident, of course—are all of one colour. Progressist means Radical, and nothing else: and it is well to say so quite distinctly. If Londoners want to put an end to municipal and parochial waste and jobbery they must vote for Unionists. It is a pity, perhaps, but facts are facts, and it is of no use to blink them.

A few weeks since the cycling world was informed that a cycle for six riders was in course of construction in the metropolis, and still later the machine's advent upon the road was heralded. A maker is going one better now, and building a mount for seven men. What object, beyond the obtaining of an advertisement of dubious worth, is to be achieved as a result of the feat, it is somewhat difficult to say.

BOER BLUFF.

President Kruger has lost no time in letting the world know that the three British subjects and one American citizen condemned to death at Pretoria will not have to suffer the monstrous sentence which a Boer judge had passed upon them. No body, of course, supposed for a moment that they would. But, although he knew that he could never hang the Reform leaders, Mr. Kruger probably meant to keep the halter dangting before the public eyes for a considerably longer time than he has actually found it expedient to do. Just as he made the Johannesburg reformers lay down their arms by given and the second considerably down their arms by given the subject of the second country and the second considerably down their arms by given the second considerably down the second considerably Just as he made the Johannesburg reformers lay down their arms by giving them to understand that he would shoot Jameson and his officers if Johannesburg did not surrender, so, as it seems, he intended to make the four principal prisoners hostages for the compliance of the British Government with the Boer demand for the abrogation of the Treaty of London and the recognition of the South African Republic as an independent State. There is a certain simplicity about this little plan which is somewhat curious on the part of a man who has certainly given unquestionable proofs of considerable diplomatic ability. There were two factors in

To this we may doubtless trace the hasty assurance of Mr. Kruger it that the sentences will not be carried out. It is all the more impossible to acquit Mr. Kruger and the Boer official ring who engineered the proceedings against the Johannesburg reformers of having blundered rather badly. Their clumsy cruelty has already gone far to alienate the sympathy of the Afrikanders outside the Transvaal, and, therefore, to render more difficult the game of playing off the Dutch against the British element in the South African white population. It now remains to be seen how far counsels of wisdom and moderation will preis of wisdom and moderation will pre-For, it must be subjects to abandon those great in-dustrial enterprises by which British activity and British capital have en-

THREATENING LETTERS. THREATENING LETTERS, A number of residents in Forest Hill have received anonymous threatening letters of a very alarming nature.
